Public Private Partnerships in Infrastructure: The Private Infrastructure Development Group

---

Friday, 11 March 2016, 12.00—2.00pm

Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade

Angel Place Office Tower, 123 Pitt Street, Sydney

---

Mr Allard Nooy, CEO of InfraCo Asia Development

Mr John Walker, Chair of InfraCo Asia Development

Public Private Partnerships (PPPs) offer an innovative way to attract private capital to much needed infrastructure development projects. The Private Infrastructure Development Group (PIDG) is a multi-donor organisation with a number of subsidiary companies designed to harness private sector efficiencies and capital for infrastructure investments through PPPs. Since 2002, the PIDG has delivered more than US$1 billion in infrastructure project development support.

PIDG's main vehicle for developing bankable projects in the Asian region is InfraCo Asia Development, a project development facility which acts as a principal project developer that aims to stimulate greater investment in Asian infrastructure.

The Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade invites you to join the CEO and Chair of InfraCo Asia Development, Allard Nooy and John Walker AM, at an invitation-only networking lunch to hear about the work of InfraCo Asia Development in opening up investment opportunities through PPPs, and delivering much needed infrastructure to support economic growth in developing countries in Asia.

Allard Nooy has over 25 years' of strategic executive leadership experience in the infrastructure sector and is an expert on emerging markets and PPPs. John Walker has a wealth of experience in finance, business and infrastructure in both the public and private sectors. He is the Executive Chairman of Infrastructure, Utilities and Renewables Asia for Macquarie Capital and Chairman of Macquarie Group of Companies, Korea.

Mr Allard Nooy, CEO of InfraCo Asia Development

Allard Nooy is the CEO of InfraCo Asia Development. He has over 25 years' of experience in the infrastructure sector, with a focus on the development and implementation of growth strategies, the creation of new assets and the financing and execution of infrastructure projects. The format of the projects with which he has been involved vary widely and include PPPs and "Build-Own-Operate-Transfer" (BOOT) structures in the water, waste water, solid waste management, waste-to-energy, power and renewable energy.

Mr John Walker, Chair of InfraCo Asia Development

John Walker AM is the Chair of InfraCo Asia Development. John is Executive Chairman of Infrastructure, Utilities and Renewables Asia for Macquarie Capital and also Chairman of Macquarie Group of Companies, Korea. In 2015 he was appointed as the Chairman of Macquarie Project Services for Middle East and Asia. In 2000, John established Macquarie's Korean business with only 3 staff. This business now has over 300 staff and is the largest foreign asset manager in Korea. Having started with a focus on infrastructure advisory business, it now comprises 12 businesses with 7 funds, with a total value of infrastructure assets invested of over $A8 billion in Korea and Internationally. Under John's leadership over the past two years, Macquarie has significantly expanded its presence in infrastructure throughout the region with roles in many emerging and developed market PPPs, M&A and unlisted and listed capital raisings.

InfraCo Asia Development

InfraCo Asia Development is a Private Infrastructure Development Group (PIDG) company. The PIDG is a multi-donor organisation with a number of subsidiary companies. The organisation as a whole has been designed to harness private sector efficiencies and capital by creating a climate in which investors feel confident about the long-term stability and sustainability of infrastructure investments in developing countries. Since 2002, the PIDG has delivered more than US$1 billion in infrastructure project development support. Australia has provided $22 million to the PIDG since 2013, with most of our funding being directed to InfraCo Asia Development in support of a number of infrastructure (primarily energy) projects across South and South East Asia.
